INTRODUCTION

Congratulations on choosing the #1 Fetal Un-motivation Program in the Upper Central Midwestern United States, in the World! Rest assured that as long as you follow this Simple Guide you can be confident in the fact that none of your child's future unhappiness can ever be considered your fault. After all, you will have given him/her all the tools they require to achieve True Happiness & Un-Enlightenment. How, then, can you be blamed if they are too f*#king stupid to take advantage of your precious, precious gift?

Simply put, Diapernetics is the Safest, Easiest, & Most Effective Method of Prenatal Sedentization available on the market today. Through the simple act of reading aloud into Mommy's baby-engorged gut, you'll help to solidify your child's future happiness and ensure that your Little Bundle always remains one of Joy.

While the warm & familiar sound of a parent's voice helps to reassure the tadpole, the innate bond of trust between parent & child will serve to further reinforce the principles of Un-motivation—much like it does with Santa Clause, God, & the dangers of smoking weed. My Program, however, proves even more effective than those of traditional parental values, as My Principles are not a load of shameless, self-serving lies.

Diapernetics is fully endorsed & accredited by the American Sedentology Society (A.S.S.) and, as such, complies with the guidelines set forth by that storied institution. In keeping with these Sedentological Traditions, I am obligated to warn you that I am making a number of Assumptions about You: The Parental Reader.

SEDENTOLOGY FUN FACT: Assumptions are an awesome way to save you both time and aggravation! Making Assumptions can save you from the almost certainly fruitless effort of properly investigating a subject, or of determining the actual facts of a given matter—tiresome chores that would otherwise cut far too deeply into your ~~Drinking Time~~ Parental Meditation Period.

ASSUMPTIONS ABOUT YOU!

Important: as Diapernetics strives to be a Long-term Solution for the ills of fetal motivation, I must always look to the Future. As a result, the following Assumptions have been Denianetically “Future Proofed” by incorporating and predicting events based on all relevant societal trends. This way, the Readers of Tomorrow can be spared the tacky shortsightedness of works like: George Orwell’s 1984, Arthur C. Clarke’s 2001: A Space Odyssey, and the Bible.

INTRODUCTION

1. As this book deals primarily with the philosophies of Un-motivation, it is assumed that you have at least a cursory understanding of Denianetic Principles. If your Sedentology is a little rusty, I've included a handy refresher course in Appendix B.

As you should know by now, you must be at least an Idiot to benefit from my teachings. If, somehow, you are still unfamiliar with this doctrine, I strongly recommend reading the latest version of Denianetics—which I can only assume is entitled “Denianetics 17: The Search for Curley’s Gold.”

2. This book also assumes that you can actually read. Those of you who have the latest Neural Interface Modules installed (Apple iMind 9G or better) may simply upload this book directly into your brain, per your device’s instructions. For the more contemporary illiterates among you, please seek assistance from a Parent, Guardian, or your favorite Correctional Institution Employee.

3. I also have no choice but to assume that you are a Single Parent--between the ages of 12 & 16--and that you may or may not yet be a Robot.

3a. If there are, indeed, Two Loving Parents represented here, then obviously it must be assumed that you are a Same-Sex Couple.

DIAPERNETICS

Congratulations to both of you on surviving the Palin Administration's 12-year Queer-Scare Campaign! I trust that the Gay Camps and "Tranny Shoots" have all been abolished by now.

- 3b. If, by some small miracle, you are somehow a Heterosexual Couple, then all I can say is "Weird..." As you take your place in History, alongside the Dinosaur, the CRT, and—apparently—Contraceptive Devices, you may take pride in the knowledge that your dedication to Traditional Family Values may have given your child a roughly +/-3% chance of not becoming a Serial Killer or Stripper.
- 4. It must be assumed that you are reading this book either before our Chinese Overlords assumed control, or after the mighty Costa Rican Liberation Army set us free. My heart goes out to those unfortunate motivated souls caught in between who were not able to find solace in Sedentology. Unfortunately, the concept of Denianetics just doesn't translate well into Mandarin or Cantonese, and of course, Reading during The Occupation was considered a Level 2 Disintegrating Offense.
- 5. All other factors aside, it must also be assumed that you care deeply about your child's well-being. Why else would you be reading this sentence? Reading, after all, is such a chore and I'm sure there's a really exciting program playing on your Holo-Wall right now.

INTRODUCTION

MY PERSONAL GUARANTEE

As any intelligent person already knows, the only thing guaranteed in this Life is the End of It. ...and possibly the never-ending stream of pampered, media-created, quasi-celebrity "reality"-show whores that have permeated every facet of Society, despite the fact that their only credentials seem to be having wealthy parents, a chemical addiction, and/or a gigantic ass.

That's why I'm offering you My Personal Guarantee that I Will Never Guarantee a Single Thing. I just couldn't insult your intelligence with anything else. Denianetics teaches us that it's never a good idea to expect anything; the more we hope for, the greater the let down when it doesn't work out. But with My Personal Guarantee, you'll be spared that kind of disappointment.
